RAINBOW CONNECTION

"This was about pushing the envelope of color," says Will Cooper, chief creative officer and partner of ASH NYC. He is referring to the AD100 firm's new line of bath fittings for Waterworks—a vibrant update to the brand's beloved Highgate series. "We took a lot of time skewing this palette to a different place," Cooper notes of the porcelain lever handles' four joyful hues: Jade Green, Cerise Red, Citron Yellow, and Azure Blue. Adds Waterworks CEO Peter Sallick, "They tell a story and make you think because they're unexpected." It's a story that continues in Baltimore, where the fixtures grace ASH NYC's forthcoming hotel, at the historic Latrobe Building. Set inside this Italian Renaissance-style stunner, Cooper notes, the Waterworks pieces "are icing on the cake." waterworks.com

FLEXIBILITY TRAINING

Conceived by designer Vittoire Niolu for Scavolini, the new Formalia system rethinks kitchen storage for our evolving lives. Metal drawers and cabinets afford ease of use, with a streamlined silhouette and wide integrated pulls. Open shelving, meanwhile, keeps treasured pieces on display and everyday items at arm's reach, with a modular construction to meet the needs of any space. scavoliniusa.com

BRAVING THE ELEMENTS

Mother Nature can be brutal on an outdoor kitchen. But for those whose barbecues have taken a bruising, Blaze has you covered. The brand's assortment of Grill Skins update timeworn appliances (either the Premium LTE or the Professional LUX model) with new stainless-steel shells. Available in rose gold (shown) or black, these clever fixes give every summer a fresh start. blazegrills.com
